Early Years Speech Therapy

Services are aimed at families with children aged from 2 years until start of kindergarten, who have impaired language development.

As a parent you are worried about your child's language development, because you have noticed that your child

- doesn't speak or speaks very little
- is unable to or only insufficiently able to express him/herself
- often does not understand you
- omits or replaces many sounds / letters in a word
- is still unable to form sentences
- is barely understood and feels excluded
- stutters

You would like to know how you can help your child to learn how to speak.

What do we want to achieve?

- to develop and expand the communication skills and linguistic abilities of your child
- to strengthen parents' trust in the communication skills of their child
- to help parents to linguistically stimulate their child in everyday life and to make specific everyday situations more conducive to language

Our services

We inform, advise and support parents on their journey and act as contact persons for any queries on the linguistic development of their child.

Speech therapy recording and evaluation

We record the linguistic development, as well as your child's communication and participation options.

Consultation and support

Regular consultations are part of early years speech therapy. If there are any questions or problems in the child's everyday life with respect to language development, we search together for solutions. You will receive valuable information and references.

Speech therapy work with your child

We support children with language difficulties to develop and expand their language skills. To do this, we use a variety of different therapy concepts.

Brief consultation

We are happy to offer advice by phone or arrange an appointment with you.

Cooperation

In consultation with parents, we work together with other specialists.

Prevention

The sooner a child is registered, the more effective their opportunities for development can be recognised. We support parents in arranging their everyday life in a way that promotes linguistic skills.

Our methods

We work with your child at home or in the premises of the stiftungNETZ. Appointments are scheduled according to an agreed frequency.
